

ANTI-HARRISON DEMOCRATS MET AND ORGANIZED A CLUB WITH FIFTY-THREE PRESENT

Account of Meeting as Told in Local Paper This Morning—Business Men are Getting Together to Protect Interests of the City

"The Anti-Harrison Democratic club" was organized last evening with fifty-three members of leading people in all walks of life, in this city, the gathering for this purpose being held above the Robertson ice office on Broadway between First and Second streets, says the morning paper. Forty-two letters had been sent out to stanch democrats who could not support the Democratic mayoralty nominee, but fifty-three people were present to join. It is learned that every one took a solemn oath from a notary public present, pledging themselves not to divulge to anyone outside their membership what transpired at the meeting, and that to be up at subsequent sessions.

One of the leading club members who is a prominent city official, stated they would vigorously oppose Tom Harrison's election, but support the balance of the Democratic ticket, with the exception of one councilman nominee who was found "spotting" members of the club as they entered the building last night. The first night was devoted to organizing, while another meeting is called for some date within the next few days, it not being given out, at which time each democrat has pledged himself to bring other democrats with him, they wanting to start working with not less than 250 affiliates.

Those seen coming from the gathering last night included professional men, merchants, mechanics, railroaders and others equally as well known in all walks of life. They stated they could not conscientiously support Harrison, but were for the remainder of the ticket, their intention being to wage a strong and vigorous campaign which seems to have gotten a good start already, as on leaving the gathering last night the members were approached by many outsiders who asked the cause of the session, and on being informed, expressed a desire to join, which they will do at the next gathering. It is understood everybody will be pledged to sacred secrecy in order to thoroughly carry out their plans. Every man there was an old-time Democrat.

London, Ind., Oct. 18.—August Post and Allen Hawley, of St. Louis, who left that city last evening in Stevens' balloon, landed at 6:30 this morning four miles from here. They made the trip safely, 225 miles, and covered it in 12 hours. Post said the night trip through the clouds was delightful.

St. Louis, Oct. 18.—The last preliminary flight of balloons entered in the international race for the James Gordon Bennett cup, was started at noon by Oscar Erbsloch, the German aeronaut, and his assistant Hans Heldermann. The ascension was planned to try out the atmospheric conditions.

ILLINOIS CENTRAL ELECTION GOES OVER ANOTHER DAY FOR COUNTING OF PROXY VOTES

Hon. E. T. Franks Monday Night.

Hon. E. T. Franks, of Owensboro, internal revenue collector for the Second district, will speak here next Monday night at the Kentucky theater. Mr. Franks was prominently mentioned as a possible candidate for governor and his, the Second Congressional district, was for him. He is an able speaker and has been doing yeoman service in this campaign. As an entertaining and convincing orator he has few equals. His reputation is not unknown here, and it is expected that the theater will be crowded Monday night.

The Business Men.

As the campaign progresses, it becomes more and more apparent that Broadway (meaning the business center and business men of Paducah) is for James P. Smith. There is no politics in this attitude. It is simply a general recognition of the fitness of the man for the office. There are approximately a half million dollars to be spent by the city, most of it under the direction of the mayor and his appointees. All of it under his influence. If he is a politician, he will spend it where it will do him and his political friends the most good in the further gratification of their ambitions. This will be expensive to the taxpayers and damaging to Paducah. If a business man and taxpayer is in charge, he will do what is best for the material interest of Paducah and cheapest for the taxpayer. There is the rub.

Irish Funeral Incomplete Without A Wake---Is It A Legitimate Expense?

New York, Oct. 18.—The justices in the appellate division of the supreme court must decide whether a "wake" is a legitimate part of a funeral ceremony in an Irish family. The question was brought up by Joseph H. McCullagh, who seeks to be reimbursed for the expenses attending the wake of an uncle, Peter McCullagh, who died two years ago.

The executor and trustees under the will of Peter McCullagh refused to allow for these expenses. The nephew declared it was customary for a guard of honor to have refreshments. He ordered a liberal quantity of food and beverages, he said, under the direction of the widow. His counsel, William F. Clare, is insisting that the custom was so well established the courts could not fail to recognize it, quoted from the dictionary, the definition of the word "wake" as the "sitting up of persons with a dead body, often attended with a degree of festivity, chiefly among the Irish."

The court reversed the decision.

CAPT. BREWINSKI SAYS REPORT IS MUCH MAGNIFIED

Captain Brewinski, of Joppy, Ill., who was one of the pilots of the steamer Mississippi on the memorable trip down the Mississippi river with the presidential party, was in the city last night. Capt. Brewinski stated that the matter had been much magnified and much that was entirely false had been printed. He said the reports that the Dick Fowler had jammed the sides of the Mississippi was untrue. He was of the opinion that the Fowler was never in a position that she was a menace to the safety of the Mississippi during the entire voyage.

There has been no time set for the hearing of the charges against Captain Cole, though it is expected that the hearing will be given at Cairo at an early date. The owners and officials are anxious for the investigation to be held that the matter may be settled.

SHOP MEN WILL BE REPRESENTED ON HOSPITAL BOARD

Employees of Paducah Illinois Central shops will have direct representation in the management of the railroad hospital. This was decided at a called meeting of the board of directors this morning. The state will be petitioned at once for permission to increase the board of directors by the addition of two members and these are to be selected from shop employees. Who they will be is not tipped off. The board will meet again in November to name the shop directors and will also elect a successor to the late Engineer McGuire. Those who attended the meeting this morning were Supt. A. H. Egan, Roadmaster A. F. Blinn, Master Mechanic Joe Nash, Louisville division; Supt. L. E. McCabe, Nashville division; J. J. Gaven, superintendent; G. M. Hubbard, supervisor, Tennessee division, and Conductor John Wheeldon, Louisville-Memphis divisions.

HON. ELIHU ROOT.

Harriman Tells Newspaper Men They Can Settle Trouble By Refusing to Publish One Side of Story Until They Have Seen the Other Side

Chicago, Oct. 18.—Until three men who are locked in a room astiduously counting proxies are able to report to the stockholders of the Illinois Central railroad, there will be no election of the directors. Twice yesterday the stockholders assembled, only to be told that the proxy inspectors were not prepared to report. Finally an adjournment was taken shortly after 3 o'clock in the afternoon and the meeting carried over until 3 o'clock this afternoon. Attorneys for Mr. Harriman who have all along been anxious to push the matter to a speedy conclusion, chafed sorely under the delays imposed by the proxy inspectors. When it was evident at the meeting that the committee would not be able to report, Mr. Crowell went to Judge Edgar Farrar, who represents Mr. Fish, with the proposition that all proxies should be thrown upon the table in a general meeting and that conflicting proxies should be thrown out. This would have killed all revocations that have been made and the proposition was promptly declined by Judge Farrar.

While the meeting was waiting for some further word from the committee in order to determine the time to which adjournment should be taken, Mr. Harriman picked up his chair and, carrying it to the end of the press table, sat down with the remark, "I think you gentlemen can do more to settle this railroad situation than anybody else." When asked for an explanation he said, "You can do it by refusing to print one side of the proposition until you have seen the man on the other side, and let him have his say at the same time. I am sick, and most of the other men are also sick, of the continued 'attacks' made on railroads. When charges are made against a railroad, the proper thing to do is to refrain from publishing them until the party bringing the charge and the representatives of the railroad have had a conference with the representatives of the press present. As such things are now run charges are printed in the papers and the public receives a wrong impression because the railroad side of the question is not given at the same time. It is the first impression that counts."

Before it was definitely announced that the proxies committee would not be able to report, the attorneys of both sides were somewhat startled by a suggestion that the transfer books of the company were open. When the stockholders' meeting was originally called it was not thought that it would last over one day, and the announcement was made that the books would be open again on October 17. After a hasty conference it was decided that there was no way in which the books could be closed and it was therefore decided that the secretary should be allowed to remain open until 3 o'clock in the afternoon when they were again closed until next Tuesday, at 11 a. m. It was agreed that no effort should be made on either side to purchase stock during the day.

CLOTHING BURNS AND YOUNG WOMAN DIES OF INJURIES

Mayfield, Ky., Oct. 18.—(Special.)—Alone in her kitchen, where she was doing the family washing yesterday afternoon, Mrs. Claude Brooks, of Pryorsburg, three miles west of here, was burned so severely when her dress caught fire that she died a few hours later in terrible agony. Mrs. Brooks, who was 20 years old, and the mother of a three-months-old child, was working around an open fire, where her boiler was heating. In some manner her clothing caught fire and was burned off her. She was unable to do anything to save herself, and her flesh was cooked before the flames died out for lack of fuel to feed them. Her screams attracted other members of the family, who found her in her terrible condition. She had inhaled the flames and death was inevitable.

From Fourth and Harrison streets south to Fourth and Madison streets. Thence east on Madison street to Second street to Broadway. The ordinance is almost ready. The track will be standard gauge.

Webb, of Atoka, was shot and killed, and Deputy Sheriff Louis Ogilvie, of this place was terribly wounded. The men were shot by John P. Strong, an insane man, who used a shotgun with deadly effect upon the men who had gone to apprehend him, the family fearing that he would do some harm. He is now barricaded in his brother's house and is defying the officers who are planning to accomplish his arrest without killing him, if possible. The house is surrounded by a dozen men to prevent his escape.

RELICS BROUGHT TO LIGHT.

The steel vault in Chief of Police James Collins' office was yesterday afternoon cleaned out and all papers burned. Records of the court for years back had been stored in the vault, and a general cleaning out was necessary for more room. Many old pistols, handcuffs and articles taken off of prisoners were brought to light. Some money was found in the vault, was taken from prisoners and never called for. Five dollars belonging to a negro criminal, who escaped from jail and was killed near Kuttawa shortly after, were taken from the vault.

Prominent Temperance Advocate Indorses

MR. GEORGE FOSTER COLLINS.

Mr. George Foster Collins, of Lincoln, Neb., who is 73 years old, a member of the Presbyterian Church, prominent in politics, a life long and strenuous advocate of temperance, has been greatly benefited by the use of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey and conscientiously recommends it as the best tonic stimulant for the old.

"I am 73 years old. Was born in Wayne County, N. Y., on March 21, 1834. Our family moved to Michigan shortly after this. I grew up on the farm, then studied law, was admitted to the bar, was County Clerk of St. Clair County, Mich., which office I held four years. Then was for a time Secretary of the Midland Railway of Michigan. I moved with my family to a farm in Gage County, Nebraska, in 1874; was a member of the County Board eight years. In 1880 was elected State Senator. Foster, my middle name, has been transmitted in the family for over 100 years from father to son. Mrs. Collins and myself are members of the Presbyterian Church of Lincoln, where we have lived for the last four years. We celebrated the fifty-third anniversary of our marriage on March 23d, 1907.

"From early youth have been a strenuous advocate of temperance principles and strongly opposed to the use of liquor. The joint resolution submitting the constitutional amendment for the issue of bonds was passed today in both houses of the general assembly by the necessary two-thirds vote. In the senate in the morning and the house in the afternoon.

ILLINOIS VOTES ON $20,000,000

Deep Waterway Bond Issue Will Be Submitted

Commission of Fifteen Will Take Charge of Project for State Legislature.

DECLARE RIVERS NAVIGABLE

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 18.—At the fall election next year the people of the state will vote on the question of issuing $20,000,000 worth of bonds for the construction of a deep waterway from Lockport to Ulen in the Illinois river. From that point on south the river is regarded as navigable by the federal government and the work of deepening it to permit its use by vessels of large drafts will be up to congress.

In the meantime a commission of fifteen members will study the problem presented by the project, and will report to the governor in time for specific action by the legislature convening in 1909. At that time, if the people of the state vote to issue the bonds, the legislature will have authority to proceed with the work, authorize the construction of the deep waterway, and raise the money with which to pay the cost.

The joint resolution submitting the constitutional amendment for the issue of bonds was passed today in both houses of the general assembly by the necessary two-thirds vote. In the senate in the morning and the house in the afternoon.

Disposes of Waterway Legislation. Both houses also passed the resolution for the appointment of the commission of fifteen to be composed of five senators appointed by Lieutenant Governor Sherman, five representatives by Speaker Shurtz, and five citizens by Governor Deneen.

In taking this action the legislature practically disposes of its deep waterway legislation. There still is pending in the house a bill which would put a totally different complexion on the disposition of the subject. It may pass the house, but it is not likely to get through the senate. This is a bill declaring the Des Moines and Illinois rivers navigable streams throughout their course, prohibiting the erection of any dams or obstructions and ordering the governor and the attorney general to take all necessary legal steps to remove obstructions which already are there.

The house, sitting as a committee of the whole, adopted the bill this afternoon and reported it to the house with the recommendation that it pass. It was introduced by Representative Charles Allen, but the "stinger" in it was placed there by democrats, and the favorable recommendation of the committee was secured because of Democratic work. Representatives Lantz and McGorty of Chicago, and Representative Mann of Brown county, all Democrats, were successful in defeating the opposition which blocked the bill in the senate, and in doing so they were not gentle in their methods.

THEATRICAL NOTES

Wonderful Effects. Porter J. White's production of "Faust," besides being correctly staged and interpreted by a competent cast of intelligent players, is mechanically wonderful, and the electrical effects and illusions add marvelously to the force of the great dramatic sermon. No other classic play ever lent itself to modern mechanical development like "Faust," and the impression left on the mind of the patron who witnesses the production, which will be seen at The Kentucky Saturday matinee and evening, is indescribable.

The Essentials.
We are living in an age of materialism and the spiritual armor has perhaps become somewhat tarnished. We have unconsciously drifted away from high ideals, as the spirit of the age of luxury, and the pursuit of pleasure has gradually caused us to lose our sense of perspective, and to shorten our mental vision. In a way we have become a nation of materialists, living largely for the hour. We must go back to the simple faith of the fathers, and renew our faded spiritual natures at the fountain head of all truth. We must remember that self and power do not fit us for greater and nobler things in the life beyond.—Lawrence American.

Words sometimes fail a man, but nothing like that ever happens to a woman until she is ready to attend her own funeral.

BABY'S VOICE

Is the joy of the household, for without it no happiness can be complete. How sweet the picture of mother and babe! Angels smile at and commend the thoughts and aspirations of the mother bending over the cradle. The ordeal through which the expectant mother must pass, however, is so full of danger and suffering that she looks forward to the hour when she shall feel the exquisite thrill of motherhood with indescribable dread and fear. Every woman should know that the danger, pain and horror of childbirth can be entirely avoided by the use of Mother's Friend, a scientific liniment for external use only, which toughens and renders pliable all the parts, and assists nature in its sublime work. By its aid thousands of women have passed this great crisis in perfect safety and without pain.

Two Killed in Explosion.

Cause of Disaster in Cotton Mill Is Unexplainable. Belton, Tex., Oct. 18.—Ramle Dye, white engineer, and Robert Owens, negro fireman, were killed by the explosion of the boiler in the Belton cotton mill.

The plant of the Belton cotton oil mill was one of the largest in this section and had been running full blast since the season opened. The building was a large corrugated iron structure, and the power was generated in a battery of three immense boilers. All is now wreck and ruin, and there is no explanation of the catastrophe. Each of the three boilers were torn to scrap iron by the force of the explosion.

There are not many things that can be done as well without as with the aid of advertising—and this applies to about all enterprises except burglary.

TO design a suit of clothes that would resist a boy's rough usage and still look well in the restful and dressy hours of evening—that was the problem confronting us until our Combination Suit was created. It has satisfactorily answered all our requirements. Each suit has two pairs of trousers—one regular, the other Knickerbocker—reducing the amount of wear in each and extending the life of the suit.

We have had them made in various fabrics—cheviots, tweeds, cassimeres and worsteds—and in attractive patterns, such as plaids, stripes and mixed goods. They are intended for boys from 6 to 16 years of age, and fit perfectly.

The suits have been divided into two classes, $5.00 and $6.50. We can think of nothing nicer for boys—nothing more economical.

If you are down town tomorrow oblige us and yourselves by looking at these lines. They are progressive in all that the word implies, and the assortment is unusually attractive.

HAGER'S LETTER

READ IN PUBLIC

Denies and Reiterates His Former Statement

Tobacco Case In Which Hon. A. E. Willson Appeared Is Explained In Speech at Franklin.

INTRODUCED BY DEMOCRAT.

Franklin, Ky., Oct. 18.—One of the largest crowds which ever heard a political speech in Simpson county assembled in the court room here yesterday to hear Hon. A. E. Willson, Republican nominee for governor.

In thorough keeping with the earnestness of Mr. Willson's address was his introduction by Judge C. W. Milliken, a former Democratic congressman for two terms and commonwealth's attorney, who renounced the latter-day Democracy when it supported Bryan.

The tall, erect veteran of eighty-two years told the Democrats about him how evil days had fallen upon their party and how the condition should be remedied.

In clear, clarion tones, which rang through the crowded court room, he shouted to the Democrats: "We're going to beat you, and when we have beaten you, we're going to organize," and then turning to Mr. Willson, he shouted, "We're going to beat them."

Like magic the sentiment so expressed found response among the several hundred Democrats present and applause rent the air. Continuing, Judge Milliken said with great earnestness: "I feel it my duty as I stand upon the brink of the hereafter to tell you what your government now is and what you should do to remedy it. If you don't soon begin you'll have no government at all."

"I've heard the rumbling in other states and I know what it portends. I have an utter contempt for the Democratic organization as it exists in Kentucky today. They have assumed to tell you from Frankfort 'I am a Democrat and you must vote for me.'"

"If you ask any of them why they are Democrats, the only answer you will get is 'I am a Democrat.' Thank God, I'm a free man, and can cast my vote for men who say why they are what they say they are. Has a free Kentuckian, a Democrat, any rights under the state ring?"

Judge Milliken said that he was not an alarmist, but had watched closely recent political developments in the state. The only hope of salvation for the Democratic party, he believed, was in the overthrow of the state ring. After that had been accomplished, he urged the reorganization of the Democratic forces, and indicated that he would again become a Democrat of the old-fashioned kind and work honestly and fairly against the Republican party.

Hager's Letter.
Mr. Willson called attention to a letter from Judge Hager to the Rev. James E. McClothlin, vice president of the Anti-Saloon League of Simpson county, in which the Democratic candidate for governor denied that he had said in his Maysville speech, as reported: "I am a Democrat, and if the Democratic party is for whiskey, I am for it, and if it is against whiskey, I am against it."

Mr. Willson then read another paragraph of the letter, which ran: "If a majority of the voters of the county should be registered at the polls for or against the sale of liquor, the minority must yield to the expressed wishes of the majority," and asked his audience to differentiate between the two expressions.

"Mr. Hager," said Mr. Willson, "after denying that he had said what was reported of him, proceeds to say in his letter practically the same thing which he denied having said."

Then Mr. Willson explained the Republican platform and his own attitude on the temperance issue, and again went into detail in establishing the insincerity of the ring candidate in this connection, and again shattered the professions of the self-styled temperance apostles who were preaching the temperance faith in the country and shunning the city like a pestilence, because there their candidates are for whiskey and open saloons.

More severe criticism was directed at Congressman Stanley for his misrepresentation of Mr. Willson's connection with the American Tobacco company.

Tobacco Case.

In this connection Mr. Willson said: "The tobacco company loaded a car of tobacco in Louisville to ship to Chicago. It was burned by accident while standing on the tracks in Louisville, and the company asked the railroad to pay for it, and the railroad refused and the company had to sue the railroad. Mr. Gibson had been for many years the lawyer for the railroad, and could not represent both, and turned the case over to me."

"I believed it was a good claim, and sued the railroad, and Emmett Field, circuit judge, decided that the claim was just and ordered the jury to find a verdict for the plaintiff, and they did. The railroad appealed to the court of appeals, and the court of appeals of Kentucky decided that it

HOW RHEUMATISM IS CURED.

Simplicity and Science Combine to Conquer Winter's Plague.

When Dr. Flood, the great Kidney, Bladder and Rheumatism specialist wrote the now famous prescription for these diseases given below, he condensed great medical learning and skill into a remedy and method of treatment so simple, inexpensive and easily obtained that anyone can benefit by it.

The receipt in full as he wrote it with his simple directions complete is as follows:

Fluid Extract Cascara Aromatic 1/2 ounce Concentrated Barkola Compound 1 ounce
Aromatic Elixr 4 ounces
Mix these ingredients at home and take one teaspoonful after each meal and one at bedtime.

The object of this prescription is to soothe and heal the Kidneys and Bladder, reduce all inflammations and stop the pain, but the doctor's instructions are that it must be persevered with for at least a week after the patient has been completely restored to health, in order to make certain that every quick recovery may be also a lasting one.

was a just claim and affirmed the judgment.

"Mr. Chinn, the clerk of the court of appeals, does not claim that it was not a just claim, but if he did the decision of the court settles the matter even for the court's clerk."

"Therefore it is settled that it is a just claim, and even Congressman Stanley must agree that it does not show a lawyer to be incompetent or unjust to recover a just claim in the courts against anybody."

"But, suppose the courts had decided that it was not valid when I thought it was, does any man who glories in our law that protects the just rights of all and requires due process of law, believe that the people wish all lawyers to be cowards and boycott every party sued in court and deprive any party of a fair trial in any case or any court?"

Specialist in Liver and Lung Troubles Endorses Vinol.

He writes: "In cases where the curative influence of cod liver oil is needed, I prescribe Vinol, which I find to be far more palatable and efficacious than other cod liver preparations. I am convinced from my own experience and from a knowledge of the nature of Vinol, that it is a worthy cod liver preparation in which a physician may have every confidence." C. L. Dreese, M. D., Goshen, Ind.

Such testimony furnishes further evidence to the people of Paducah that our delicious cod liver preparation, Vinol, does all we claim for it.

As a body builder and strength-giver for old people, delicate children, weak, run-down persons, after sickness, and for chronic coughs, colds, bronchitis, and all throat and lung troubles, Vinol is unexcelled. This is because Vinol is made by a scientific, extractive and concentrating process from fresh cod's livers combining with peptonate of iron all the medicinal, healing, body-building elements of cod liver oil, but no oil. We ask the people of Paducah to try Vinol on our offer to return their money if it fails to give satisfaction. W. B. McPherson, Druggist, Paducah, Ky.

THE "Comebacks," so to speak, those who buy and buy again, it is they upon whom every merchant must rely if he would attain success in its most lasting and undying form. For our patrons this fall we have a great line of domestic and foreign worsteds, cassimeres, tweeds and cheviots, comprising all the newest and most desirable colorings. :: ::

$15.00 Suits

In buying clothes you can't judge by the price alone. Fifteen dollar suits are mighty common about town, but suits at $15 with the style and good making characteristic of these garments are mighty hard to find. You can't help but find a pattern or style that will strike you just right, you can't help but acknowledge the superiority of the tailoring when the proof of the clothes themselves confronts you.

$15.00 Overcoats

Same way in Overcoats. There's a noticeably stylish swing to our new "Addison"—a jaunty semi-form fitting garment made up in gray cassimere, black Thibet and unfinished worsted, handsomely lined, perfectly tailored. You'll certainly like the "Addison." It costs $15.

Taxpayers are always interested in the kind of man, who appoints the boards of public works, park commissioners and police and fire commissioners. These boards spend the people's money. If a heavy taxpayer and property holder has the appointing, and has no political ambitions, he is likely to see that the money is judiciously and economically spent, as to secure the largest returns for the least expenditure, consonant with sound judgment. If a man is used to handling big affairs, he has to learn at the public expense, a politician goes into the mayor's office, the people may expect him to be in the office according to the use to which a politician would be expected to put it. That's the issue in this locality contest.

those girls who were discharged in a Pittsburgh department store, use they would not surrender pompousness, should find that paduans are rapidly going out of style, they would feel flat, indeed.

A COLD STORAGE JOKE.

Readers of the News-Democrat appraised last evening that an Harrison Democratic meeting held the night before; but aside this meager information nothing else tangible about the alleged meeting was presented in an article than a column long. Perhaps, News-Democrat published its of the meeting before it came off, and this accounts for its failure to secure any more definite information about its proceedings.

If its details had been sufficiently complete to even justify the suspicion that they were acquired from any one present, we should have assumed that there really were twelve present, and the particular Judas Iscariot from whom the News-Democrat got its information, modestly neglected to count himself. And yet, we can't help believing that, if the reporter who covered the Bryan meeting had handled this story there would have been, at least, 500 present at the anti-Harrison meeting.

But one must needs cling to the theory of premature publication. That story was written up in advance and held for "release." It sounds amateurish. It has about it a vagueness that dispels any illusion as to its authenticity. Were we positive that Mr. Clem Whittemore, resident manager of the McCracken county branch of the Frankfort machine, has a penchant for turning a paragraph, we should ascribe the authorship to his willing pen.

There were eleven present, says the News-Democrat, in a burst of confidence—fatal admission, that opens the way to unlimited surmise. All are Democrats, and they are sufficiently interested to get together and organize against Tom Harrison. How many are there to vote against him, who never did participate actively in any sort of political organization? We could name 200 from Seventh street to the river along Broadway, who are eligible to membership in the Anti-Harrison Democrat club.

But why speculate? The News-Democrat was too fast. It published its fake story of the meeting four hours before it was held.

The News-Democrat should have kept its funny story in "cold storage" 24 hours longer.

Dollar-eight wheat makes corn cakes look good.

That wise old preacher, who would burn the heretics, is forestalling efforts of the heretics to freeze out the preachers.

Taft's Manly speech sets at rest the apprehension aroused by the utterances of Ollie James, agent of the possibility of the administration selling the Philippines. Taft says we shall not sell them. Now, Ollie.

A campaign to educate the American people to have confidence in the railroads is the naive suggestion of the president of the American railroad association. Just as if it was ignorance of the situation that caused their lack of confidence. It was recent enlightenment, which would remind the worthy president, which somewhat destroyed an illusion the American people have enjoyed these many years. The campaign of education should be among a certain class of railroad men. They must learn that confidence is born only of the frankest honesty and full publicity. When the people can look into railroad management and find nothing in it that is not honest, they will have confidence, and no other sort of educational campaign will produce the result.

Maybe, the "Democrat," who told the Fourth street organ how ridiculous Mr. Bell's statement sounded, is their "well known politician," who "who frequently negro divines."

Does any one believe, even Mr. Wilson, who made the charge, that the man who uttered those words lied to the 60,000 people who heard him in western Kentucky when he said that he came to Kentucky at his own expense for the purpose of rousing Democrats to action in the present fight for state office? asks the News-Democrat.

Don't know. That is up to Mr. Bryan and Mr. Urey Woodson, national Democratic committeeman. Mr. Woodson said it cost between $500 and $600 a day for the Bryan trip, and the expense was apportioned among the counties visited.

Somebody must have copped Helms's one best bet on the New York exchange.

POLITICAL CONDITIONS IN THE STATE.

The Evening Post today presents reports from its own correspondents throughout the state. Instructions have been given to report the actual conditions as near as it is possible to ascertain them, and we submit these impartial, non-partisan reports to the consideration of the people, says the Louisville Evening Post (Independent).

Partisan journals of the Democratic persuasion have been declaring that every Democratic meeting was an outpouring of the untried people. Partisan Republican journals have been declaring that the Democrats were going in a body to the support of the Republican ticket. One would imagine from reading these reports that all the Democrats were going to vote for Wilson and all the Republicans for Hager.

These are the ordinary manifestations of an interesting political campaign. But this is no ordinary campaign. Party barriers have been broken down. Party lines have been changed. Men have in large bodies left one party to go to another. Issues form parties and new issues are forming new lines of party separation in the state.

The reports as they have been given to the Evening Post indicate the large Democratic counties a marked decline in party interest in party loyalty. In the Republican counties the indications are for increased majorities. Taking these reports as a whole, it is easy to count up losses sufficient to wipe out the normal majority of the Democrats in Kentucky.

Certainly the reversal in Louisville will amount to 10,000 votes, and that leaves about 17,000 to be overcome in other parts of the state.

The Evening Post has never been a political prophet and never assumed to be. It gets what facts are obtainable and submits them to the judgment of the people. It can only say in regard to these reports from the different congressional districts, the indications are that the Democratic losses will be sufficient to insure the election of Mr. Wilson. These do not seem to us sufficient at this writing to indicate that the Democrats will lose the legislature. Three weeks remain of the campaign. It will be conducted with a great deal of energy, but it seems to us not possible at this time to change the tide; indeed, we believe that the tendency toward the Republican party will grow stronger from day to day.

Nothing will aid more to increase James P. Smith's majority than for the News-Democrat to continue its policy of producing fake stories similar to the one it featured Thursday under a two-column head: "Republicans Held Rally in a Grove Last Night." In addition to a half concealed and crudely written fake, the headlines are insulting.

MISSISSIPPI A SUCCESS.

New Battleship Measures Up to All Requirements Made.

Lewes, Del., Oct. 18.—News has reached here that the standardizing or special test of the new battleship Mississippi was successfully made over a measured mile at the mouth of the Delaware bay yesterday. The contract requirements called for 17 knots speed.

Andy Declares Negro Thrifty.

Edinburgh, Scotland, Oct. 18.—Andrew Carnegie, in an address at the philosophical institution yesterday appeared as a champion of the negro in the United States. He traced the development of the negroes from slaves to citizenship, the gradual decrease in illiteracy among them, their participation in church affairs, and told of enormous expenditures of money for churches and schools.

Mr. Carnegie contended that the negro was a saving man and repudiated the idea that he was lazy, and said negroes had become of economical value and indispensable. He admitted, however, that the negro problem is still unsolved.

Lord Roseberry, who spoke in the same question, said he doubted the wisdom of enfranchising the negro, since he believed ninety percent of them were illiterate when they were enfranchised, and on Mr. Carnegie's showing 47 per cent of them are still so. It seemed to him that a period of tutelage might have been wisely imposed.

Another Earthquake Shock.
Washington, Oct. 18.—Official statements today regarding the violent earthquake recorded yesterday and followed by a disturbance of less magnitude today, indicate that the earthquakes occurred at some points between 3,200 and 5,000 miles away, varying according to two estimates. The only direction indicated is that the motion was either east or west.

Magill Case Is Over.
Decatur, Ill., Oct. 18.—Fred Magill, the former banker of Clinton, charged with wife murder, will know tonight whether the jury now hearing the evidence believes him guilty. The prosecution in rebuttal closed yesterday afternoon. Argument will be concluded by 4 o'clock. The impression here today is that Fay Magill, his wife, will be acquitted. She was indicted with Magill. That there will be a disagreement in the former banker's case is the universal opinion.

Washerwoman Better Paid Than Preacher, Assertion.
Bloomington, Ill., Oct. 18.—More pay for clergymen was the slogan of Rev. John Earl, of the Holden Avenue church of Chicago, before the Illinois Baptist convention today. The Rev. Earl said that he had dedicated his life to the business of raising the salaries of preachers. He declared that the poorest washerwoman earns more money than is allowed the average Baptist minister. He would raise the salary of every preacher 20 per cent.

Dr. Earl also aroused the convention by his assertion that there are two "isms" that are killing the church. He said these were suburbanism and urbanism.

Winthrop, Minn., Oct. 18.—That the Indian tribes living within a few hundred miles of Winthrop have resorted to most brutal savagery was pointed out at the trials of the chief of the Sisseton tribe, just closed at the Sisseton court house, by a statement of a lawyer who accompanied by Norway. The sack and burnings of the tribe were stated to be a part of a policy of death or burned at the stake for no other reason than to remove their tribes of living for food. Chief Joseph Deception was convicted of murder and sentenced to die.

Killed in Wireless Station.
South Weyfleet, Mass., Oct. 18.—Electrocuted to some manner as yet unexplained, the body of Arthur L. Dakin, of Somerville, a wireless telegraph operator, was found in the operating room of the Marconi station here this morning. Dakin went on duty some time during the night, and when it came time to relieve his watch his body was discovered in the room where are located the sending and receiving instruments. Dakin had been employed at the station for two months. He had been interested in wireless telegraphy since he was 15 years old. Manager Taylor thinks Dakin must have been killed while making some experiments on his own account.

Earl said that he had dedicated his life to the business of raising the salaries of preachers. He declared that the poorest washerwoman earns more money than is allowed the average Baptist minister. He would raise the salary of every preacher 20 per cent.

Dr. Earl also aroused the convention by his assertion that there are two "isms" that are killing the church. He said these were suburbanism and urbanism.

Indian Chieftain Is Sentenced to Death.
Winthrop, Minn., Oct. 18.—That the Indian tribes living within a few hundred miles of Winthrop have resorted to most brutal savagery was pointed out at the trials of the chief of the Sisseton tribe, just closed at the Sisseton court house, by a statement of a lawyer who accompanied by Norway. The sack and burnings of the tribe were stated to be a part of a policy of death or burned at the stake for no other reason than to remove their tribes of living for food. Chief Joseph Deception was convicted of murder and sentenced to die.

Panic at Naples.
Naples, Oct. 18.—A panic was spread today, owing to the sudden appearance of a snake from all the corners of the city, which usually means the death of a large number of the people.

825 Reward.
The city Republican Campaign Committee will pay $25 for any evidence leading to the prosecution and conviction of any one guilty of buying or selling of registration certificates.

PACKED GALLERY GREATLY FEARED

Republican National Committee Will Avoid it

New York, Ohio and Indiana Cities Are Thus Barred From Consideration.

CHICAGO, ST. LOUIS ARE IN IT.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 15.—There is said to be a strong feeling in the national Republican committee that no city should be selected for the next convention in which there is any likelihood of a gallery being used either to further or to defeat the nomination of any particular candidate.

The influence of the national committee on nomination is small, except so far as the selection of the place is concerned. The choice of New York, for instance, would be looked upon everywhere as a fore-runner of the nomination of Hughes, because outside seats would almost certainly be filled with people who were his active sympathizers, at least on the surface. In a similar way the selection of either Cincinnati or Cleveland, both of which are good convention cities, would almost certainly be looked upon as a friendly move for the secretary of war.

The sentiment of the national committee as a whole is not favorable either to Taft, or Hughes. Unless some extraordinary change in feeling should take place New York, Cincinnati, and Cleveland will be considered as barred from competition to avoid any charge of favoritism in behalf of the two leading candidates.

Distance Bars Out Coast Cities. Aside from this limitation there is no city which may not compete for the honor and pleasure of seeing the next Republican nominee for the presidency put in the field. There is an expression of opinion generally that it would be unwise to go to either edge of the continent in these days when passes are prohibited and each delegate is expected to pay his own fare. This theory, if followed out by the committee, would at once eliminate places like Seattle and Boston.

Much of the same argument will be urged against the selection of Denver, which is so far west as to make the cost of transportation a serious item in case of a great majority of the delegation.

Those who are forecasting the result of the meeting of the national committee in December are, therefore, inclined to limit the choice to Chicago, St. Louis, Kansas City and Pittsburg. As is always the case Chicago has the lead. It is generally admitted by members of the committee and other people that in the matter of a convention hall, hotel capacity, the transportation and telegraph facilities, and, above all, in the matter of climate, Chicago unquestionably is the ideal city.

St. Louis Weather Record Bad. On the other hand, St. Louis has a good record. It took excellent care of the convention which nominated McKinley in 1896 and of that which put Parker in the field in 1904. In both cases, the hotels acted with fairness toward the great crowds which gathered; railroads disposed of all people without difficulty; telegraph facilities were good; and the general management of the convention was beyond criticism. The weather each time was disagreeably warm and most of the delegates remember the city favorable in every respect except that of the climate.

Kansas City, it is said, will put up the strongest fight for the convention. The people there have provided a good auditorium and conventions are enough of a novelty in that section to make the work of securing subscriptions comparatively easy. The Democratic convention of 1900 went to Kansas City, and while people there were extremely hospitable and did the best they could under the circumstances, the general management of the affair was not entirely above criticism. Hotels were uncomfortably crowded and the weather was unendurably hot. Kansas City, however, has grown a great deal in the last eight years.

Slim Chance for Pittsburg. Less is known about the convention situation in Pittsburg than elsewhere. That city is not as readily accessible by rail as some others there being at times something of a competition along the Pennsylvania and Baltimore and Ohio lines, converging at the Smoky City. At the last accounts hotel accommodations there were not all they might be. There is a good deal of enthusiasm in that section, however, and the suggestion has been made that Knox men and Taft men might meet at Pittsburg as on a neutral ground, although it is the home of the distinguished senator from Pennsylvania.

ORDER IMPROVEMENT OF FIRST STREET. City Solicitor James Campbell has been instructed by the street committee of the general council to draft an ordinance for the improvement of First street from Broadway to Washington street. The east side of the street is not built properly, the Illinois Central having placed curbing by its tracks.

Is unquestioned for the sideboard and medicinal purposes, and you can not secure anything superior. Sold most everywhere.

That our American forests abound in plants which possess the most valuable medicinal virtues is abundantly attested by scores of the most eminent medical writers and teachers. Even the untutored Indians had discovered the usefulness of many native plants before the advent of the white race. The information, imparted freely to the whites, led the latter to continue investigations until to-day we have a rich assortment of most valuable American medicinal roots.

Dr. Pierce believes that our American forests abound in the most valuable medicinal roots for the cure of most obstinate and fatal diseases. It would properly investigate them and in the process of this investigation, he came upon the almost marvelous curative effects of his "Golden Medical Discovery," which has proven itself to be the most powerful stomach and liver medicine ever known to medical science. It cures dyspepsia, or indigestion, torpid liver, functional and even valvular and other affections of the heart, yield to its curative action. The reason why it cures these and many other ailments, is clearly shown in a little book of extracts from the standard medical works which is mailed free to any address. Write Dr. W. C. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., to all sending request for the same.

Not less marvelous, in the unparalleled cures it is constantly making of women's many peculiar ailments, is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, as is amply attested by thousands of grateful testimonials contributed by grateful patients. It has been proved by the most careful tests that it cures all the ailments of women, such as irregularities, pains and other displacements caused by weakness, derangement of organs and abnormal conditions, often after many other advertised remedies, and physicians had failed.

Both the above mentioned medicines are wholly made up from the purest extracts of native medicinal roots. They are prepared in their medicinal form by original with Dr. Pierce, and they are prepared by skilled chemists and physicians, actually designed and built for the purpose. Both medicines are entirely free from alcohol and all other harmful ingredients. A full list of their ingredients is printed on each bottle wrapper.

Glant Turtle Tonic, Root.
Capt. Percy Peck, "The Hartman and 'Pat' Glocks, three city island salts, went fishing yesterday in Pelham's Bay, off Hedges Point. First thing he knew, Capt. Peck's hook was taken in tow by a granite turtle. The monster towed the three men and the rowboat a mile. Then they got a raft hook into his back and brought him to the surface, and he reached out a flipper and caught boat and all. The old salts managed to climb up on the bottom of the upturned boat with the turtle on the line. They fought him three hours with only an oar for a weapon. Finally the turtle died and was towed ashore. He weighed 267 pounds.—New York American.

CHAPTER XIX.

IN a very short time Dr. Hammond became as expert at the rock dissolving as was his friend. He called it billowing slow work, but was nevertheless extremely industrious at it, although days and weeks went by, as they suspected, months passed before the hands of the two friends met in the center of the rock. The lucky circumstance that favored them was the habit of the jailer in visiting Dr. Hammond only once every four days. The lieutenant made his difficult passage, squeezing through the newly completed tunnel half an hour after a leaf had been set upon his trail. Jack knew that the steamer had recently departed, because two days before the governor had sent for him and had exhibited a quantity of material recently landed, among other things a number of electric bells and telephones which the governor was going to have set up between himself and the officers and also between his room and that of the clerk and jailer. There were dry batteries and primary batteries and many odds and ends, which made Jack almost sorry he was leaving the place.

Heavy steps, muffled by the thickness of the door, sounded along the outer passage.

"Ready?" whispered Jack. "Here they come. Remember, if you miss your first blow we're goners, you and I."

Dr. Hammond made no reply, for the steps had come perilously near, and he feared to be heard. Noiselessly he crossed the cell and took up his position against the wall, just clear of the space that would be covered by the opening of the door.

At the same moment Jack switched off the light, leaving the room black. Each of the two waiting prisoners could hear the other's short breathing through the darkness.

On came the shuffling footsteps of the jailer and lantern bearer. They had reached the door of No. 1, had paused, had passed on and stopped in front of No. 2.

"Your cell?" whispered Jack, panic-stricken. "And they weren't due to look in on you for four days. It's all up! They'll discover the cell is empty and give the—Where are you going, man?" he broke off as Dr. Hammond, leaving his place near the door, groped his way hurriedly along the wall.

Women Inclined to Constipation

Women, owing to their peculiar functions, are prone to constipation, and many of their other ills are due to this congestion in the bowels which fills the blood with impure matter that permeates the entire system. In most cases foul breath, bad complexion, sick headache and such like ills are primarily caused by constipation or indigestion.

Women should be happy to learn of a remedy that cures constipation and indigestion, and that has such other benefits as purify the blood and tone up all the digestive organs. This remedy is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which can be bought at any drug store for 50 cents or a dollar. Women have been curing themselves with this remedy for sixteen years, and the offer of year-long supply is made to-day. Buy Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin with the money you will be refunded.

This great herb laxative compound is especially suited to the delicate system of women because of its gentle but prompt action. It does not weaken the purgative and cathartic, but builds up and strengthens. It is a guaranteed permanent cure and should be as readily in four homes as in other lines of health.

Women use it themselves and give it to children in preference to any other laxative because it is so gentle and so effective. It does not hurt and does not do harm. Mrs. Tyler, of 238 Niagara Ave., St. Louis, Mo., writes to say that it cures constipation and stomach trouble, and recommends it to American women. She is a mother of thousands who are all in praise of it. You have never used it, but begin to-day. You will date your freedom from sickness to the day that you start the use of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Your druggist will sell you a bottle under our absolute guarantee.

At the same moment Jack switched off the light, leaving the room black. Each of the two waiting prisoners could hear the other's short breathing through the darkness.

On came the shuffling footsteps of the jailer and lantern bearer. They had reached the door of No. 1, had paused, had passed on and stopped in front of No. 2.

"Your cell?" whispered Jack, panic-stricken. "And they weren't due to look in on you for four days. It's all up! They'll discover the cell is empty and give the—Where are you going, man?" he broke off as Dr. Hammond, leaving his place near the door, groped his way hurriedly along the wall.

"To squeeze my way back and make a fight for it. It's better than—"

at the wharves this morning, freight being received and delivered by the packets that are to be out today and tomorrow.

A slight rise was again recorded at the government gauge this morning, the gauge registering 8.3, which is a rise of 0.4 since yesterday.

The American leaves for the Tennessee today for the

Capt. Arthur Peck has chartered the steamer Nellie, the Bloomer Girl, for the purpose of towing ties out of the Tennessee and Cumberland rivers.

The Bob Dudley is in from Nashville with a good load of freight. She gets away on her return trip today.

The steamer Kentucky came in from the Tennessee river this morning and stays here until Saturday before returning.

The John S. Hopkins was the Evansville packet today. The Joe Powler will come in tomorrow from that place and lay over here until Monday

The City of Saltillo is due tomorrow from St. Louis on her way up the Tennessee river on her regular weekly trip.

Captain Scott Parish, of Cairo, is in the city for a few days.

The Fred Hartwig passed up yesterday for Sisters bar, near Golconda, to help the J. B. Finley over the bar.

The big towboat Sprague, which has been tied up at the island on account of the low stage of the water, left today on her way up the river,
the water having risen to such an extent as to enable the big boat to pass the Sisters bar at Golconda.

The New Era floating palace has returned from Brookport, where a performance was given. The show barges have been undergoing repairs at the marine ways.

It appears that Pilot Nichols, of Cairo, has company. The news comes that Pilot Emory B. Johnson has had his license suspended for twenty days by the local inspectors, Waltz and Hodge, on account of reckless navigation and inattention to duties on October 4, when the government steamer Titan was in the waterways fleet—Cairo Bulletin.

The steamer City of Saltillo is receiving to clear to all points in the Tennessee river next Wednesday at 5 p. m. She will bring the barge
America here in tow from Riverton, Ala., which was recently purchased by the Kansas City Steamship company.—St. Louis Post Dispatch.

tinue falling during the next several days, then probably fall.

ing slowly during the next 36 hours.
The Mississippi, from below St.
Louis to above Cairo, will continue falling slowly during the next 36 hours.

AMERICAN PURCHASES
RUINS FAMOUS MUG.

London, Oct. 18.—Admirers of Robert Burns have learned with regret that another relic of Robert Burns is to depart from British shores to America. R. G. Knowles, the American collector, has purchased from the collection of the late Prof.
Kirkpatrick, of Edinburgh University, the famous Burns' mug and will take it home with him to the United States.
The mug was inherited by the late professor, and it is an authoritative fact that it was the favorite drinking vessel of the great Scotch poet.
It is made of black wood, encircled with three brass bands, and has a wooden handle.

Train Leaps Track.

Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 18.—Rock Island train No. 8, eastbound, leaped from the track in the outskirts of Lincoln this afternoon while running down a steep grade at high speed.
Six coaches were smashed into kind fling. The wreckage blocked all traffic.
Every coach was crowded, but not one passenger sustained injuries aside from minor bruises and cuts. Six coaches stayed on the track. Spreading rails were responsible for the wreck.

Not Happy as Claudius.

A New Yorker, recently returned from England, where he saw much of the tinsel and tin armor pageantry by which various anniversaries have been celebrated at Oxford and elsewhere, tells this:

A Roman in costume approached a fellow tinned character and asked:
"Are you Appius Claudius?"
"No," responded the other dejected-
ly. "I'm not as 'appy as Claudius.
I'm as un'appy as 'ell!'"—New York Sun.

JAP NAVAL BASE

HEARST PAPERS SAY ONE IS WANTED ON THIS SIDE.

Seizure of Alaskan Port Is Said to Be Program of Little Brown
Man in Staring.

Washington, Oct. 18.—The most startling international news since the publication by the Hearst News Service of the orders of the general navy board that the whole fighting force of the United States navy should be transferred and concentrated without delay in the Pacific, developed here today when it was learned that officials of this government were apprised that Japan intended to acquire or seize a base on the Pacific coast.

When the news came the general naval board was in session in Newport. That such news went to the general naval board is a fact, and it is also a fact that the representatives of this government abroad, who are experts in army and navy matters, apprised the United States that Japan's most probable move would be the location of her base at some point on the Alaskan coast.

That act would, of course, have been a flagrant cause for war, and the news came at a time when it was not known how Japan would act.

BUMBLE BEE'S STING
KILLS A POLITICIAN.

Canton, S. D., Oct. 18.—Stung on the temple by a humble bee, Michael Oakleaf, a well known politician and former office holder, dropped to the ground and in ten minutes was dead.
A farm hand ran to his aid, placing him in a buggy, drove at breakneck speed for the city, but Oakleaf was dead before he had been on the road five minutes. Physicians contend that the sting penetrated the brain through the joints of the knitted portion of the skull.

A Word With You, Mr. Cash Buyer.

Why carry your hard earned cash to the Credit Stores where it goes no further and buys no cheaper than does a 60 day or 3 months credit for the man who buys on a credit. These credits sometimes lengthen out into never pays and someone has to make it up. Mr. Cash Buyer, do you want to help pay the bad debts? Every merchant gets a discount for cash, why not the consumer. Yet you pay as much for your goods in the credit stores as does the credit customer. We sell only for cash and therefore have only cash prices. You help to pay no bad back accounts here. We buy and sell for cash, get cash prices when we buy and give you cash prices when we sell. Compare our prices with those of the credit houses and you will realize that "money talks."

MEMBERS SUFFERING WITH TUBERCULOSIS.

Rock Island, Ill., Oct. 18.—In hope of reducing life insurance losses, the executive council of the Modern deal for the purchase of 1,000 acres of land adjoining Colorado Springs, known as the Ambler Ranch, whereon to erect a sanitarium for treatment of members of the society afflicted with tuberculosis.

Thought Dollars Counterfeit.

Washington, Oct. 18.—There has been a funny counterfeit scare out in Southern California, especially in Los Angeles and San Diego. A large number of silver dollars dated 1873 appeared in business circles. It was not long until nearly everybody had some of the money. Then some one started the story that the money was counterfeit because it was all new.

So people refused to accept the dollars. The police got busy and an appeal was made to the secretary of the treasury. Then it was discovered that many of these dollars had been lying in the sub-treasury in San Francisco for years. The sub-treasury died some time ago and his successor put some of the money into circulation.

Follow your inclinations. If you
